FALLING INTO STYLE

The season's best design discoveries will inspire for years to come. By Samantha Brooks

Think Pink

Is there any motif that defines Los Angeles more than the green Martinique banana leaf wallpaper donning the halls of The Beverly Hills Hotel? Now, the iconic imagery from CW Stockwell has been recreated in pink and included in the redesign of the property's 11 poolside cabanas, marking the first time the wallpaper has been installed at the property since 1940. The cabanas were just completed in July under the direction of Champalimaud Design, which also renovated the property's spa earlier this year, and include new terrazzo coffee tables, basket weave chairs and peach-pink dining tables from local designer Bend. Complimentary amenities for cabana guests include a selection of beverages, snacks, Coola sunscreen and Evian misters, and additional features for the upcoming months include a program of private poolside dinners. From $500 per day, exclusive to hotel guests, dorchestercollection.com

Soft Landing Handknotted rugs and graphic accessories are the hallmark of Morrow Soft Goods' fall collections, featuring 10 new pieces including the Azia shag rug in a check print of deep navy and rich cocoa, and the Morris cotton throw in a black and cream pattern that looks at home in any environment. "For this collection, I wanted to play with subtle geometric shapes with varying heights and layers of texture," says co-founder and creative director Stephanie Cleary, who, along with Michelle Paul Toney, is opening the brand's by-appointment L.A. studio in October. "We also expanded our existing palette of soft shades of terra cotta to classic navys and deep, enriched browns." morrowsoftgoods.com
