1. The clear Tulip Hanging Light from Cox London is an elegant studio-blown glass shade that is often used in a set of three above a kitchen island, or to light hallways in your home. Various sizes, shapes and colors are available. coxlondon.com

2. The Sofia dining side chair (20 1/2" w. x 21 1/2" d. x 37 1/2" h.) from Engle & Deutch, available through Raoul Textiles, is noted for its turned walnut legs and stylized ladder back. The medium brown hue is complemented with a seat of Indonesian rush. raoultextiles.com

3. Maison & Co. has recently added to its inventory this French 19th-century cast-stone garden basket (17 3/4" h. x 15 3/4" diam.). The sculpted assortment features fruits and flowers, and takes on a rich patina. maisonandco.com

4. Although it's called the Bread Basket, this sturdy woven container (18" w. x 22" l. x 36" h.) at The Iron Gate is as much a decorative item at home as it is a practical and lovely one for storing anything from throw blankets and magazines to children's toys. theirongateonline.net

5. Minimal in form, this mid-century metal tripod floor lamp (73 1/4" h. x 26" w.), available at Maison, was made in France, circa 1960. Elegant in a room, it stands tall and provides abundant light, as well as a sculptural presence. maisonshoppe.com

6. Mississippi-based artist Lee Malouf has created a new and striking work entitled Inhale, which is available exclusively through Tara Shaw. The artwork (30" h. x 22" w.) reveals an alluring series of black brushstrokes, at once abstract yet accessible. tarashaw.com

7. When lit, the Governor Scroll from Bevolo Gas & Electric Lights illuminates outdoor areas at your home in new and bright ways. Its scroll bracket adds a decorative look to the fixture, which is available in natural gas, propane, or electric modes. bevolo.com

8. Marcello Fantoni's wall sculpture (18 3/4" h. x 21 1/2" w.) is signed and dated, 1974, by the late Italian artist (1915–2011). The incised glazed ceramic plaque, available at Antonio's Bella Casa, is an ideal example of the artist's oeuvre, many pieces of which are in notable museum collections. antoniosbellacasa.com

9. A perfect element by the pool or on your terrace, the Mirasol umbrella from Santa Barbara Designs is both practical and decorative. The Cadet Grey features a Marquis-style valence with black edge binding. A flame-style finial finishes off the look. santabarbaradesigns.com

10. The Jake Stripe in Black Tie (available in 14 colorways) from Perennials is made of 100% solution-dyed acrylic, making the bold graphic pattern fade-, mildew-, and mold-resistant. perennialsfabrics.com

11. Useful to an artist or simply as a novel decorative item at home, this antique oak artist's easel (69" h. x 25 1/2" w. x 21 1/2" d.) is available from Robin Rains Interior Design + Antiques. The H-frame item features an adjustable crank and casters. robinrains.com

12. The Chateau Robe Chair from Munder Skiles assumes a relaxed, natural profile when set in your yard or on your terrace. Its woven fabric, sinuous lines, and graceful back panel replicate the effects of a luxurious robe. munder-skiles.com

13. Dennis & Leen has long been known for recreating elegant designs inspired by the decorative arts of 17th-century France. This covered tureen (17" diam. x 15" h.) certainly references those historical precedents, while also feeling modern. dennisandleen.com
