A LITTLE BIT BEVH

Tabletop by Kelly Golightly x Beth Ladd
"If you can't make it to The Beverly Hills Hotel, channel the glamour at home by hosting brunch around the pool," says Palm Springs gal-a-bout-town KELLY LEE, known socially by her style moniker, Kelly Golightly. "These handmade placemats set the scene for a classic year-round." Lee took a cue from Truman Capote's graceful and glamorous "swans" for the beaded napkin ring. Putting the fabulosity into any place setting with its feathery flourish, they are also available in white.

Lee, who recently launched a mod apparel collab with Burnu, says her tabletop confections are both a tribute and an invitation to a bygone era.

STRIPES AT ATTENTION

Outdoor Umbrellas by Santa Barbara Designs

Native Angelenos JAMES SHEFTEL and MARK SURIN each visited the desert regularly on family trips as kids. Now, the owners of Santa Barbara Designs visit to pull from the blue skies, green palm fronds, pink-hued mountains, and Palm Springs' vibrant culture for their commercial-quality outdoor umbrellas. Design meetings unfold in the library of their 1971 Stan Shiley—designed getaway in the Indian Canyons foothills, where they plan the new colors and select tullebettes, canopies, and trim. They offer more than 70 combinations of shape, size, and material to customize their shades, which are handcrafted in Southern California. This summer, they're making patios pop with a vertical reorientation of the perennial horizontal stripes. The Double Decker in Vertical Cabana Pink Stripe with scalloped valance and Rose Brush fringe represents one of 10 vertical stripe colorways.
