

MISSION TERRACE® UMBRELLA

The design of the Mission Terrace® umbrella was inspired by the California missions that dotted the California coastline in the early days of settlement in the west. These historic structures, with their distinctive arched walkways and timeless architecture, embodied a sense of permanence and craftsmanship that has endured for centuries.

Drawing from this heritage, the Mission Terrace umbrella celebrates the artisanal spirit of early California. We chose oak exclusively for this collection - a wood known for its strength, durability, and distinctive grain patterns. Each piece is carefully finished with marine conversion varnish to enhance both its natural beauty and weather resistance.

The solid brass fittings complement the oak beautifully while providing lasting durability. Combined with our signature open and close system, these brass components develop a rich patina over time, adding character to each umbrella.

The Mission Terrace appeals to those who appreciate historical design and substantial craftsmanship. It's perfect for clients who want an umbrella that feels rooted in tradition while providing
